The Story: A Day at the Park

Mia loves going to the park on Saturday mornings. She always brings her red backpack, which has her water bottle and her favourite book inside. Today, Mia walked to the big oak tree and sat down on the soft grass. She read three chapters of her book before she noticed a small brown dog running toward her. The dog wagged its tail and sniffed her backpack. Mia laughed and gently petted the dog. An old man called out, 'That is Biscuit! He loves meeting new friends!' Mia smiled. She decided that Saturdays at the park were her favourite time of the whole week.
